OVER THE LAST WEEK
AS OF DECEMBER 6, 2024

QUICK TAKE

+ Market RISK is low as the MOVE index, which measures expected bond market volatility, has dropped to its lowest level in over 6 months and is below its long-term average. This has historically been a positive sign for equities particularly when equity market risk, as measured by the VIX, is also below its long-term average.

+ Major stock market indexes finished near or at all-time highs on Friday. All short- and long-term momentum factors are positive in the short-term model.

- Bullish investor surveys and options activity are pushing the intermediate-term model into slightly negative territory from a contrarian perspective.

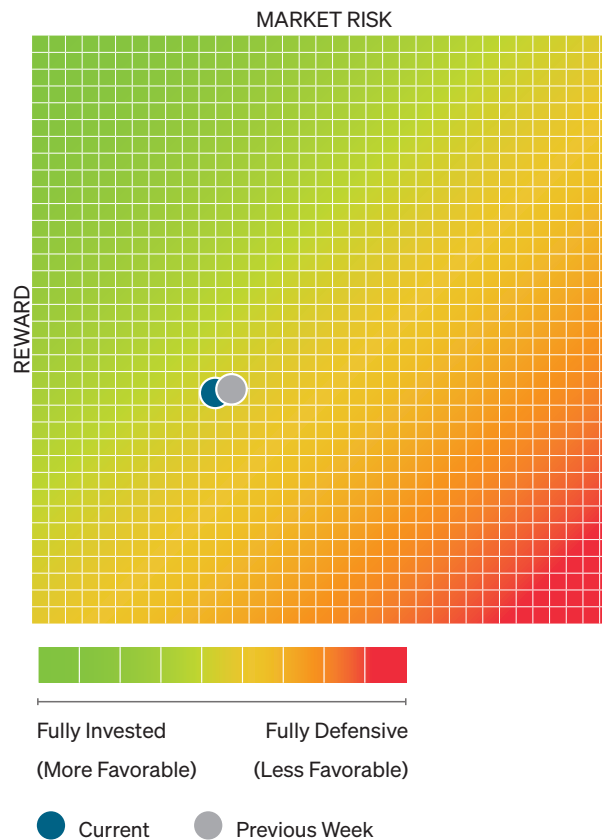

OVERALL MODEL OUTPUT

A Closer Look at Our Tactical Positioning Targets

Each day, Meeder analyzes and ranks over 70 different factors from our short, intermediate, and long-term models. The dynamic statistical model incorporates factors covering macroeconomic, fundamental, trends and technical analysis to estimate the potential reward and marketplace risk of the equity markets. The Meeder Spectrum, Muirfield, Balanced, Moderate Allocation, and Conservative Allocation funds utilize this strategy for the Defensive Equity portion of their portfolios. The Defensive Equity Strategy guides the allocation of each fund's equity sleeve and the actual proportion of equity investments in any fund will vary depending on the investment objectives of the fund.

UNDERSTANDING THE DEFENSIVE EQUITY SNAPSHOT

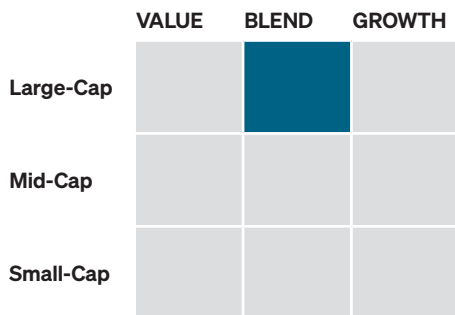

The vertical axis of the grid combines the scores of our long-, intermediate-, and short-term models to arrive at the reward value for the stock market. The horizontal axis represents the model's internal measure of stock market risk. The reward value is divided by marketplace risk to arrive at our recommended percentage of Net Equity Exposure.
